

Being a student at the Faculty of European Studies, in my second year of bachelors, I had the great opportunity to go for an Erasmus+ exchange semester to Malmo University, Sweden. I arrived in Malmo full of excitement, but the following months superseded my expectations.

First thing I must point out is how well-organized was the arrival day and the introduction week. During my stay, I have received help in all kinds of issues. I never felt confused or alone, that is thanks to the Erasmus programmer coordinator, the staff at the student housing, student center and at the faculty.

It is of great value the chance I had to interact and work on projects with students from all over the world. By becoming a member of the Student Union, I had the possibility to participate in cultural and academic activities that helped me discover Malmö, Sweden, and re-discover our world from a different perspective. The courses I took at the Faculty of Culture and Society were well-structured, captivating and involved many challenging activities which treated the most actual subjects of world politics. I was also happily attending conferences and workshops organized by the faculty, where the invitees were highly respected professors from all around the globe.

I have received a huge baggage of knowledge and practice from my experience at Malmö University, hence, I am very grateful for this opportunity, and would encourage all students to apply for Erasmus+ in Sweden for it is an amazing experience to live.
