Communication skills

- Teamwork:
  - I have experience in this field since high school, when I helped in practical and research projects developed within the school.
  - I have actively participated in projects of the NGO I was activating, projects such as: "Understanding Europe", "European Parliament Simulation", "Santa Clause for everyone", "Europe's Days", projects that helped me develop and considerably improve my social skills, both during the projects and after they reached the end.
- Sociable
- Ability to adapt to multicultural environments
  - Skills gained not only in the numerous overseas visits I undertook, but also in the internship I did in Cyprus, in 2013, as well as in the Erasmus mobility I participated in 2014-2015, where I've met people from all around the world, with different habits and customs, and with whom I still keep in touch
- Ability to speak in public, both in an informal and in a formal setting.
  - Skill gained from training's I participated inside the NGO where I was a member (SSE), as well as from the interaction with different types of personalities, nationalities, cultures, social status etc.
- I started to develop this skills in high school, and later on, in my University years I improved them and gained new others from all the cultural and social events I attended, but also because I am passionate about art and culture in general.

Organisational / managerial skills

- Leadership
  - Ability discovered during my high school and University years throughout the projects I participated in, where I always took the initiative and brought the team together so the projects to a high quality ones.
- Organised
  - Experience in organizing both formal and informal cocktail parties, which I enjoy doing, giving the fact that I am a really organized person, with my personal belongings, but especially when it comes to paperwork and important documents
- Analytical/Critical thinker
  - Skill developed during the 3 years of University, especially while I was studying abroad in Nottingham in 2014-2015 where criticism was really emphasized and highly recommended and encouraged
- Ability to make decisions under a stressful situation

Job-related skills

- Good oral and written communication skills (English)
- Strong analytical skills with focus on efficiency and quality
- Attention to detail and curiosity
- Ability to survive in fast pace environment sometime working on slightly vague instructions from clients and senior management
