

Call for papers - Third International EUXGLOB Conference

Perspectives of the European Union's Eastern Neighbourhood

Cluj Napoca, November 9-10, 2023 (hybrid format)

The EUXGLOB Centre of the Faculty of European Studies, Babes-Bolyai University Cluj Napoca, is delighted to announce the call for papers for the third edition of our annual international conference whose main topic will focus on the perspectives of the EU's Eastern Neighbourhood in the context of Russia's war of aggression on Ukraine and, ultimately, against the West.

Building on an already established academic tradition, the conference aims to bring together academics, scholars, students and an interested public to discuss salient issues affecting the regional security environment and, in a broader sense, the current world order. Therefore, we would like to invite you to submit your paper proposals via email at euxglob@gmail.com by filling in the form available at <https://euro.ubbcluj.ro/wp-content/uploads/Registration-form-Euxglob-November-9-10-2023.docx> by September 15, 2023. Acceptance notifications will be sent by September 25, 2023.

The main conference panels include, but are not limited to, the following topics:

- The pathway to EU accession for Ukraine and the Republic of Moldova
- Security implications and solutions for the EU's Eastern Neighbourhood
- Energy strategies and policies in the Black Sea and Eastern Neighbourhood regions
- Approaches to the post-war reconstruction of Ukraine

The conference will be organised in a hybrid format, with no participation fee required. A debate café (roundtable) entitled "Multilateralism and Global Actors' Geopolitical Approaches in the Black Sea Region" will also be included as a side event in the conference programme. The papers presented during the conference will be considered for publication in a peer-reviewed collective volume. More details about the previous conference proceedings volumes, as well as about the past events of the EUXGLOB Centre can be found at www.euxglob.ro

We are very much looking forward to receiving your paper proposals and to welcoming you to the third edition of the EUXGLOB international conference in November 2023. For any further queries, please do not hesitate to contact us.
