Communication skills

Native: German. Fluent: English. Certificate: Latinum. Additionally, I speak/understand some Latin languages but would have to practice them more. I also learned for two years Putonghua.

Organisational / managerial skills
Political advising

I (co) organised a number of exhibitions with public opening ceremonies for the diplomatic corps in Hong Kong. As a DAAD-representative and advisor, I have closely collaborated with the diplomatic corps in Hong Kong, China and Romania. Furthermore, I have (co-) organised four international conferences, numerous workshops and panels of the Annual Meeting of the American Historical Association and the Congress of the European Network in Universal and Global History.

Occasionally, I have served as in senior administrative positions, e.g., as Programme Head, in acting or full-time capacity.

Reviewing and chairing

I have reviewed for journals, grant- and fellowship programmes in Asia and Europe. Additionally, I have served as Vice President of the German Alumni Organisation Hong Kong and as the Chair of the History Panel of the Undergraduate Awards (Ireland).

Experiences with Blended Learning and IT

Blended learning and coding

Already in 2001, I co-edited a CD-ROM that dealt with the use of photographs as sources for teaching the history of World War II. I am familiar with (almost all) MS-Office tools and software, and with the editing of files and photographs. Though I already learned coding at school, I am not a coder since we used EUMEL as OS and ELAN as programming language. However, I am very skilled in blended learning; and the standard software, platforms and media in academe, including ZOOM, Skype/MS TEAMS, Turn-It-In, Moodle, StudIP etc.

Academic advising

I got trained in academic advising as part of the University of Hong Kong's structured pastoral care. Also, I have participated in more than a dozen summer and winter schools that the DAAD organised in Germany, China and Romania, which had the goal to keep the DAAD-fellows up-to-date in didactics and intercultural communication (see below).
